

Revised text for EURA Newsflash to go out in week of 14 May 2018

EURA Young Scholars' Award candidates: Please load your Tilburg papers by 1 June 2018 to win a travel grant for 2019

I send a message to young urban studies scholars who are participating in the EURA Conference in Tilburg in June: Would you like to have a travel grant to present your scholarship at our next high profile, international urban studies conference in Dublin in June 2019?

Launched in 2007 the EURA 'Young Scholar' Award provides grants, worth (1000,-) to young scholars who present exceptional papers at a EURA Conference.

Papers given by young scholars at the EURA Conference in Tilburg on 21-23 June 2018 are eligible for a grant to participate in the next EURA Conference (co-organised with the Urban Affairs Association), City Futures IV, in Dublin on 20-22 June 2019.

Two young academics won EURA 'Young Scholar' Awards in 2017. They received grants to enable them to participate in the Urban Affairs Association (UAA) Conference – our partner association – in Toronto on 4-7 April 2018.

If you are participating in the EURA Conference in Tilburg be sure to submit your EURA paper on time if you want to be considered for the 2018 EURA 'Young Scholars' Award. The deadline for paper submissions to the EURA Conference is 1 June 2018 (see: <https://www.aanmelder.nl/98531>)

All good wishes

Professor Valeria Fedeli

President of the European Urban Research Association (EURA)