CALL FOR ABSTRACTS

This call for abstracts addresses post-doctoral researchers from the fields of housing policy, urban and regional planning, policy and data processing, urban design, human geography and social sciences and related. Early post-doctoral researchers are especially encouraged to join. We also welcome PhD candidates in mature stages to introduce their work.

The participants will be selected according to the suitability of their current research to the topics of the sessions. Best abstracts presented will be invited to a full paper and peer review for journal publication.

Submission:

Please submit your abstract before 20 June 2018 23:59 in order to apply for presentation in one of the designated sessions.

The abstract of 500 words excluding bibliography should refer to one of the topics of the symposium's designated sessions, providing the title, the author's name and affiliation, and include preferences for up to two sessions for the presentation of your paper. All personal data will be blinded by the organizers prior to the selection process.

We can only accept applications in electronic form. Please submit your .pdf-document via e-mail to GBsymposium@ils-research.de. After handing in the abstract, you will receive a confirmation email in English within 24 hours. If you should not receive the confirmation mail, and for any other questions and inquiries, please contact Jun. Prof. Dr. Jan Polívka at: jan.polivka@ils-research.de.

Authors of selected abstracts will be informed by mid-June. Presenters are required to register as symposium participants. Registration for both presenters and attendees will start in June 2018.
